THIRD INFANTRY ABOVE MINIMUM

Expectation of Early Departure Brings 28 Enlistments at Camp Ordway.

Camp Ordway had its biggest recruiting day for several weeks yesterday. Twenty-eight men were enlisted in the District militia, and the seventeen recruits for the Third Infantry brought the number of men in the regiment above the minimum strength.

The news that the troops were to move whether they were up to minimum strength or not is responsible for the spurt in recruiting, the officers believe.

When it became known at Camp Ordway yesterday that the Third Infantry had the minimum number of men, and recruits still being sworn in by Capt. D. Spencer Bliss, there was much joy among officers and men.

Seventy colored recruits are wanted to fill the First Separate Battalion now at Naco, Ariz., to war strength of 600 men. When war strength is reached no more enlistments will be allowed.

The men who enlisted yesterday were:
 Third Infantry—William E. Compher, Theodore L. Columbus, Lloyd H. Crandall, William H. Cummings, Horan T. Deahl, Charles E. Follin, Joseph W. Higgins, James W. Hood, Barnard W. Lawler, Milton E. Lowe, Edgar S. Miles, George L. McDonough, Bernard E. Saxty, Wallace H. Smith, Charles E. S. Stevenson, Edward Stewart, Roger A. Thomas.

Troop A—Joseph Adams, Simon Allen, James H. Nolan, Charles E. Robinson, Walter E. Royer, Jesse H. Wilson, Jr.

Battery A—Emmet G. Green, Andrew P. Helwig, John W. Tompkins.

First Separate Battalion—James H. Kenney, James T. Smith.

FAIL TO DISCUSS MAJOR CHANGES IN D. C. BILL

Conferees on District Appropriation Measure Adourn Without Agreeing on Contested Features.

Conferees on the District of Columbia appropriation bill had a brief and hasty session yesterday and adjourned until today without discussing any of the major amendments in which the two branches of Congress are in disagreement.

The half-and-half amendment, the Sterling amendment, providing for a tax on intangible property, the firemen's and policemen's pension bill and the rate of gas for the District were all passed over until today.

The conferees did agree on a number of minor amendments which add to the sum total of the bill and were appended in the Senate draft.

General opinion supports the belief that the Senate and the House conferees will not report a bill, owing to hopeless disagreement, in which event the current appropriations will be continued for another year.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY. RENAMES SELKIRK BORE

New Double-Track Tunnel Under Mountains Named for Duke of Connaught, Who Inspected Work.

Special to The Washington Herald. Montreal, Aug. 14.—Canada's new five-mile, double-track tunnel, under the Selkirk Mountains, now on the eve of completion, will be known as the "Connaught Tunnel." Permission has been granted Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, by the governor general of Canada to rename the bore.

On a recent trip West, the Duke of Connaught went through the tunnel. It will now be a few weeks before the tunnel will be put into operation. It lowers the Canadian Pacific mountain grade by 500 feet. The work was begun less than three years ago and has been rushed ever since.

Its prompt construction sets a new record. It is the longest double-track tunnel in the Western Hemisphere. It is a quarter of a mile longer than the Hoosac Tunnel, in New England, which has heretofore held the record.

Inbuilt Economy

In the design of the Sun Light Six, 50 horsepower, high speed, high efficiency motor much has been done to offset the inferior quality of gasoline now on the market.

The intake manifold is constructed in such a way as to give an equal distribution of gas to each cylinder. The interior walls of the manifold are polished with a sand blast in order that the gas may pass through without friction. It is cast within the cylinder block which construction not only insures the vapor being properly heated before it reaches the combustion chamber but eliminates a number of unnecessary parts.

The compression is higher than that used in the average motor which gives a greater explosive force and consequently greater power with less fuel.

The Rayfield carburetor so well known for its economy, efficiency and reliability is standard equipment. A dash adjustment is provided.

The 20-gallon gasoline tank is located at the rear of the chassis where it is protected from the heat of the motor.

Fuel is fed by the Stewart Vacuum Gasoline System.

The exclusive Sun design "Dual-Ejector" exhaust manifold entirely eliminates back pressure.

The car complete ready for shipment weighs less than 2600 lbs.

These things largely account for the fact that the Sun Light Six under ordinary driving conditions

The proof is in the demonstration—come in, call up or write us immediately will travel over 21 miles on one gallon of low test gasoline.

Other unusual features of the Sun Motor are as follows: Burd High Compression Piston Rings; anti-friction roller valve lifters; perfect lubrication; Remy Starting, Lighting and Ignition System; spiral timing gears; removable cylinder head; oversize crankshaft and lightweight reciprocating parts.

The car as a whole is in keeping with the high quality of the motor. The high ratio of horsepower to weight has been attained by simplifying the design and by using the best of constructional materials throughout.

Nor have comfort and riding qualities been overlooked. The seats are wide, the backs high, the leg room is extraordinary. The tires are large, the springs are long, the weight is correctly distributed. The Sun Light Six has comfort actually built right into the car itself.
